

Diet and the Gut Microflora in Health and Disease

Michael Smith Lecture Theatre, University of Manchester
Friday 4th November 2011

Provisional Programme

10:00	Registration and Welcome	John McLaughlin
10:10	Introduction to ENGIHR	Seve Pandiella
10:20	“Challenges in the manufacture of prebiotics and probiotics”	Dimitrios Charalampopoulos (University of Reading)
10:50	“BBSRC funding opportunities relevant to Gastrointestinal Health Research”	Simon Kerley (BBSRC)
	“Commercialisation”	Gill Shuttleworth (UMIP)
11:10	Tea/Coffee
11:30	“Gut microbiota in IBD and its modification as a therapy”	Ailsa Hart (Imperial College, London)
12:00	“Probiotics and Irritable Bowel Syndrome”	Peter Whorwell (University of Manchester)
12:30	Lunch
13:15	State of the Art Lecture	Steve Collins (McMasters University, Ontario)
14:00	"A novel role for the pattern recognition receptor Nod2 in cutaneous wound healing"	Sheena Cruickshank (University of Manchester)
14:30	"Influences on the composition and stability of microbiome communities during their development"	Andrew McBain (University of Manchester)
15:00	Closing comments

Registration: Yasmin Moore (Yasmin.Moore@manchester.ac.uk)

Further Information: Nick Chadwick (n.chadwick@manchester.ac.uk)